

StarLit

Welcome to StarLit — the second annual festival of children's literature from 4–8 October in London's Hoxton Square, celebrating the very best of writing for 5 to 15 year-olds.

StarLit has provided copies of different book titles read by over 2,400 children in Hackney throughout September in 117 classes and reading groups. Each child will then have the opportunity to meet the authors and illustrators of each title in a creative event in Hoxton Square.

StarLit has been developed and produced by Shoreditch Trust as part of their commitment to encouraging children to develop a passion for literature and reading, self-expression and creative writing.
